

NATURAL RESOURCES CONSERVATION SERVICE

ENVIRONMENTAL BENEFITS OF ORGANIC
SYSTEMS WEBINAR SERIES

Organic agriculture is growing, and NRCS field offices will have more and more organic producers walking through our doors. NRCS and Oregon Tilth prepared a Webinar Series to prepare NRCS field staff with the information and resources they need to assist this growing segment of agriculture.

Please join the webinars live, and view them again after they are posted to the Science and Technology Training Library by searching the word "organic."

Environmental Benefits of Organic Agriculture: Biodiversity
Wednesday, June 17, 2015 at 2pm ET

John Quinn, Assistant Professor of Biology, Furman University

Join the webinar and learn more

Environmental Benefits of Organic Agriculture: Soil
Thursday, August 27, 2015 at 1pm ET

Michel Cavigelli, Soil Scientist, USDA Agricultural Research Service
Michelle Wander, Director of the Agroecology and Sustainable Agriculture Program, University of Illinois

Join the webinar and learn more

Environmental Benefits of Organic Agriculture: Water Quality
Wednesday, September 23, 2015 at 3PM ET

Cynthia Cambardella, Research Soil Scientist, National Laboratory for Agriculture and the Environment, USDA-ARS

Join the webinar and learn more

Webinar series will be moderated by Betsy Rakola, Organic Policy Advisor, US Department of Agriculture www.conservationswebinars.net

Presented in partnership with Oregon Tilth